

SENATE PAYS ITS RESPECTS TO EX-QUEEN

The annual senatorial visit to Queen Liliuokalani this morning was carried out with ceremony reminiscent of the older days of Hawaii. The queen received the lawmakers with their wives in the reception room of Washington place. Senator Iauka presented President Chillingworth who in turn presented the senators.

"Hawaii still has aloha with all," said one of the older senators after the formal part of the visit was over. Light refreshments were served, the ladies gathered with the queen while the senators were served on the lanai. The queen was attended by Mrs. C. S. Holloway, Mrs. C. P. Iauka and Mrs. J. A. Dominis.

While the senators were gathering to meet the queen the Hawaiian women who assisted in the Hawaiian pageant of the Carnival brought presents to the queen. The old-time custom of "hookupu" was revived as they laid their gifts of taro, bananas, of other fruit at the feet of the queen and then went out chanting an old strain.

"It was a pleasure for the senators to visit the queen," said President Chillingworth, "and we hope to have the invitation extended to us again."

The Royal Hawaiian band played for the queen even after the legislators departed. A moving picture was taken of the senators and their wives going out through the trees. The members present with their wives were Senators Chillingworth, Cooke, Castle, Baldwin, Wirtz, Robinson, Metzger, Baker, Desha, Quinn, Penhallow, Rice, M. H. Iauka, Iauka and M. H. Iauka.

PLAN TO BRING NEWSPAPERMEN WITH VISITORS

fraying the expenses of newspaper correspondents.

"And whereas, it is the sense of the legislature of the Territory of Hawaii that the party of congressmen who may visit Hawaii under the terms of said act may be accompanied by some newspaper correspondents, and that the expenses of said newspaper correspondents shall be paid by the territory.

"Now therefore, be it enacted by the legislature of the Territory of Hawaii:

"Section 1. That act No. 4 of the legislature of the Territory of Hawaii, entitled 'An act to provide for the entertainment and expenses of such senators and members of the house of representatives of the United States of America and distinguished persons as may visit the Territory of Hawaii prior to June 30, 1917, and repealing act 31 of the session laws of 1913,' approved on this day of "A. D. 1915, be and the same is hereby amended so as to include within the term 'distinguished guests' such newspaper correspondents as may be invited to accompany said party by the editor of the Pacific Commercial Advertiser, and the editor of the Honolulu Star-Bulletin.

"Section 2. That the sum of five thousand dollars ($5000) is hereby appropriated for the purpose of defraying the expenses of newspaper correspondents who accompany the congressional party on invitation as hereinbefore provided.

"Section 3. This act shall take effect from and after the date of its approval."

REVISED LAWS AGAIN BECOME CASUS BELLI

The 1915 session laws, which were recently bound and printed, again threatens to disrupt the harmony of the legislature. After causing a breach between the senate and the secretary of the territory, the book has invaded the house of representatives. Today Speaker Holstein announced to the members of the house that the secretary had sent down 15 copies which had been stamped to the effect that the books were the property of the territory and were to be returned to the secretary's office as soon as the legislature is past. "It is an insult to the members of the house that the secretary of the territory should send us copies of the 1915 laws with a string attached to them," said the speaker, "even if it is in the shape of a rubber stamp."

SETTLE OLD LAND PROBLEMS OF COLLEGE

Thanks to the action of the governor through the land department and cooperation with the city government, vexed land problems associated with the development of the College of Hawaii grounds that have hung fire for years are now settled. The College is now in possession of three acres of land required to round out its area and give it very valuable rights in the Mauna Kea stream. The city has a location for a fire station which is much preferable to the formerly much discussed Smith street lot. The former saw-tooth boundary between the College and the Mid-Pacific Institute has been straightened out and the deeds are now passing through the Torrens court for the perfection of the title.

Land Commissioner Tucker has been an active factor in clearing the situation by securing a good price for the Smith street lot, an area that was promptly released by the city authorities when the governor turned over to the city the much larger and superior location on Mauna Kea street.

HAWAII EXHIBIT STILL CROWDED, WRITES WOOD

In a letter to the Hawaii Fair Commission, resident Fair Commissioner Wood states that the attendance at the Hawaiian building of the Panama-Pacific International Exposition continues to be large and he adds that, in his opinion, the exhibit will result in a large influx of tourists to Hawaii next year.

Wood says the plants are commencing to bloom and that those of the fish which are still alive in the exhibit aquarium show up well. The motion picture machine is exhibiting to capacity audiences, he says.

A bronze plate, four by six inches, presented to the territory by the exposition to commemorate the Hawaiian building, was received by the fair commission yesterday. It probably will be set in the Capitol building or in the Archives.

CHINESE KEPT OPIUM PLASTERED ON HIS SKIN

Chung Fong, former cook on the Suiyo Maru, is the crack opium smuggler, is the verdict of federal officials. He was arrested by a customs inspector with yen-ah in his pockets. Later he was turned over to Captain McDuffie who searched him again but found nothing. Next Marshal Smiddy took inventory of his personal property and also found him devoid of incriminating evidence.

When Chung was finally taken to Oahu prison, pending a hearing before Commissioner Curry, Friday afternoon a large ball of the forbidden nap was found plastered to his skin.

LONDON GIVES DISCOURSE ON THE GLAD HAND

Don't Hold One Out and Hide Hammer in the Other, Novelist's Advice

RETURNING TO IRELAND.

Good mornin', me Country, oh it's grand you are lookin'—An' it's happy I am to be wid you once more. 'Twas said when I left that may be I'd forget ye if ever prosperity knocked at my door.

Faith, I couldn't view Erin wid eyes of a stranger. Sure, played when a boy round the old castle grand. If you were in ruins, O land of the shamrock. There's no place to me would be bright as my land.

I take off my hat to ye, Erin, acushla. It does my heart good to see ye, meachree. An' true to my promise, I'm here with my green hills. That haunted me thousands of miles o'er the sea. —Jack D. Cleary.

The gentle art of extending the glad hand to the visitor, and concealing the big hammer behind the back with the other, as practised by our best greeters, was the subject of an Ad Club talk by Jack London this noon. According to London, the habit of knocking is ingrained and breaks through the veneer of hospitality sooner or later with most Honoluluans.

"I will talk for any text these words," said London. "He best serves himself who best serves all."

Warming up to his theme, the speaker said: "The spirit of good will is manifested here more spontaneously, more openly, than in most communities, but certainly the spirit of knock is more in evidence in Honolulu than in Paris, or London, or New York. When you are six days' sailing from the nearest bit of mainland you are bound to be provincial in spite of all your hospitality. It is true that the Ad Club really buried the hammer, instead of doing it only superficially as heretofore."

"Right as hard as you please, but don't have funds," was another bit of advice presented to the Ad Club by London.

"I never saw such business cliques as I have seen here," said he. "I suppose it is due to your insularity. Business is business, but you can make business slowly approach the idea of business. If you go about it in the right way."

This being St. Patrick's day, the table was appropriately decorated and a general color scheme of green was faithfully carried out. Nall Slattery had charge of the program.

Andrew Kirk, the Australian baritone now appearing at the Bijou, sang two Irish songs in a way that delighted his hearers.

"Billy" Hutton gave an Irish recitation and Dr. W. H. Frye replied that it was because there were no snakes in Hawaii that so many Irish came here.

Next Tuesday will be Ad Club night at the Popular, in honor of the departing cabaret singers, the committee appointed to have charge of this important event being C. D. Wright, J. M. Higgs and J. D. Levenson.

New members elected were R. H. White, D. L. Mackay, L. G. Blackman and Harold S. Morris.

SILVA-MADEIROS CASE "STUMPS" ANOTHER JURY

The case of Esther K. Medeiros, charged with statutory offense, was still in the hands of a federal jury at a late hour this afternoon.

This case is an outgrowth of the Mamede Silva, "white slavery" case, upon which two juries have disagreed. After the second trial of the Silva case last week, United States District Attorney Jeff McLean issued a warrant for Esther Medeiros, whose relations with Silva led to the "white slavery" charge.

The facts of the first case were used again today in trying Esther Medeiros. George A. Davis represented both defendants.

HILO WANTS LARGER POSTOFFICE STAFF

(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence) HILO, March 17.—That the Hilo postoffice staff should be increased at once is the opinion of the Hilo Board of Trade. That body adopted a resolution, presented by George H. Vicars on Wednesday last, which called attention to the greatly increased business of the postoffice and the short-handed staff that is expected to handle the enormous volume of mail matter.

From June, 1904, to June, 1914, the business of the Hilo postoffice increased 87 per cent, and yet the same number of officials are expected to handle the work satisfactorily.

H. D. Corbett, Hilo postmaster, addressed the meeting later and he backed up the proposition of his being allowed more officers. He said that the public could also help out a lot by seeing that their mail is deposited in the mail boxes early, and not left until the last moment.

LEGISLATIVE NOTES

Fernandez introduced a bill in the house to provide a closed season for "game birds."

Goodness introduced a bill in the house to license merchandise peddlers at $50 annually, exempting fishermen.

Cooke introduced a bill in the house to extend the operation of the 1913 session school budget throughout 1915.

Ell Crawford also introduced a bill to appropriate $4000 for homestead roads in the district of Koolapoiko, Oahu.

Cooke presented a bill in the house to provide discharged territorial prisoners with transportation to their homes.

Kupieha introduced a bill in the house to give citizens preference in the employing of longshoremen on government wharves.

Lyman introduced a house bill to give homesteaders preference when lands adjoining are opened for settlement and sale by the territory.

The judiciary committee reported favorably upon Cooke's house bill to give the board of license commissioners power to subpoena witnesses.

After recommending that an entire section of Cooke's house bill to regulate the adoption of minors be deleted, the judiciary committee reported favorably on the measure.

Chairman Watkins of the house finance committee reported favorably upon the bill to pension Emil de Harne, for 30 years a school teacher of the territory.

Ell Crawford presented a bill in the house to appropriate $15,000 for the sinking of an artesian well and the laying of a pipe line at Lualaba, district of Waialeale, Oahu.

"Willie" Crawford produced a bill in the house to protect mollusks, oysters, snails and pupu ulua (fish). The bill provides a penalty for taking these fish, if under six inches in length.

Watkins introduced a bill in the house to transfer the unexpended balance of the 1913 session appropriation for new buildings at the College of Hawaii, amounting to $2,394.45, to the fund for salaries and expenses at the college.

Because Jacob Sims, an American negro, who spent 10 years at the Mokolei settlement, is still under suspicion as being a leper and must report monthly to the government physician in Honolulu, the finance committee recommended that Sims petition for compensation for the ten years spent in the settlement be tabled. It was.

Speaker Holstein was presented with a large Hawaiian flag by the Hawaiian ladies of Honolulu, through Mrs. Haalelo, in commemoration of the birthday of Kamehameha III, which is today. In acknowledging the token, the speaker assured the ladies that he would erect the tallest flag pole on Hawaii as soon as he returned home.

President Chillingworth yesterday appointed Senators Baldwin, Desha, Metzger, Wirtz and Higgs to confer with the members of the lower house on H. R. 65, which calls for an investigation of cane rates paid by the mills to small growers. The senate's special committee also will attend the hearings on the resolution which are to be conducted by the house agricultural committee.

SMART WILL HEARING ALSO GOES OVER A WEEK

The hearing on the administration feature of the Thelma Parker Smart case was continued by Circuit Judge Whitney today until next Wednesday, at 3 o'clock. Attorney M. F. Prosser of counsel for Mrs. Smart stated that subpoenas had been issued for certain witnesses and asked the court to issue an order instructing them to be present on the future date. The court did so, although it has not been advised as to the identity of the witnesses who are wanted.

The H. C. Frick Coke Co. fired 515 additional coke ovens in the Connellsville, Pa., district.

GERMANS CLAIM DRESDEN SUNK IN NEUTRAL PORT.

VALPARAISO, Chili, March 17.—German officers from the cruiser Dresden, sunk in battle Monday, bring a totally different version of the engagement from that given out by the British admiral.

According to the German account, the Dresden was surprised at anchor, in a harbor of Juan Fernandez island, where she had taken refuge short of coal and for repairs to her engines. Disregarding entirely the fact that the Dresden was within the protection of Chilean territorial waters, the British squadron is declared to have opened fire.

After five minutes of unequal fighting, the German commander hoisted the white flag and protested against the violation of a neutral sanctuary.

For answer he was told he could fight or surrender. Instead he sent his crew ashore and blew up his ship. In the five minutes the action lasted 19 men were killed.

Several British shells, the German officers say, flew wide and damaged other vessels belonging to neutral powers, as well as killing several Chilean women and children ashore.

The Chilean government has sent a cruiser to Juan Fernandez islands to make an investigation, and report.

JAPAN CLAIMS GERMANS PLOTTING WITH BANDITS.

TOKIO, Japan, March 16.—Information received from Manchuria is to the effect that the German officers who escaped from Tsingtau prior to its capture by the Japanese are now intriguing with the chiefs of a number of bands of "chunshus," Chinese brigands, who operate in the district of northern China along the Manchurian and Siberian borders.

The Germans are bribing these bandits to attack Japanese and Russian settlements and are planning a series of raids against the Transiberian railroad line, upon which Russia is depending for the transportation of munitions and supplies from Japan and the United States.

DEMAND CHINA PUT DOWN RAIDERS.

The representatives of the Japanese and the Russian governments in Peking have presented a joint note to the Chinese administration, formally protesting against any further toleration of the presence of these German agents in northern China.

They have notified the Chinese government that if the raids of the German-led bandits cannot be prevented by China, Japan and Russia will take such steps as are necessary to suppress the bands, by an invasion of Chinese territory if necessary.

TEUTON CRUISER BREAKS PAROLE; PUTS TO SEA.

LONDON, Eng., March 17.—Letters from Las Palmas in the Canary Islands relate that the German auxiliary cruiser or Macedonia, which interned here for the duration of the war, stole out to sea one night and has disappeared.

Inasmuch as essential portions of her machinery had been removed and taken ashore, it is supposed her engine room staff must have succeeded in secretly duplicating them.

The Macedonia carried a cargo of munitions of war for other German raiders at sea.

NETHERLANDS LETS CENTENARY FETE SLIP.

THE HAGUE, Netherlands, March 17.—In view of the fall of war that overpreads all Europe, the centenary of the establishment of the kingdom of the Netherlands, which fell yesterday, remained uncelebrated. No flags and no bunting were allowed.

RUSSIANS AGAIN INVADE BUKOWINA.

LONDON, Eng., March 17.—The tide in the fighting on the Russian extreme left in eastern Galicia has turned definitely, according to a despatch received by the Exchange Telegraph Company, which reports the Russians advancing steadily on their third invasion of Bukovina. The northwestern sections of this crown province are again under Russian control, with the Austro-Germans falling back towards the passes leading into Hungary.

A Reuter despatch from Petrograd says that during the month of February a total of 46,000 Austrian and German prisoners passed through Kiev on their way to the detention camps in eastern Russia and Siberia.

GERMANY SEIZES ALL BELGIAN GRAIN.

LONDON, Eng., March 17.—Reports that have reached here by way of Holland say that virtually all the grain which had been stored in Antwerp and which was seized by the Germans when they occupied that city has been shipped into Germany. This grain, valued at $6,000,000, has been paid for by the German government in currency which the Belgian banks have been forced to issue, which is not accepted outside of Belgium.

GREECE REPORTED AFRAID OF BULGARIA.

GENEVA, Switzerland, March 17.—Former Premier Venizelos of Greece, says a Rome despatch to Reuter, has declared since his resignation that the Allies twice asked Greece to send troops to the aid of Serbia.

Greece was willing, but the attitude of Bulgaria, which, though declared to be neutral, seems to incline toward the German cause, made it impossible.

SMALLPOX EPIDEMIC IN PETROGRAD.

PETROGRAD, Russia, March 17.—Double the number of cases of smallpox reported on the average during last year have been reported here during January and February, those being 470. During all of 1914 the cases of this disease recorded here totaled 1178.

HILO HOTELS PREPARE FOR RUSH OF TOURISTS

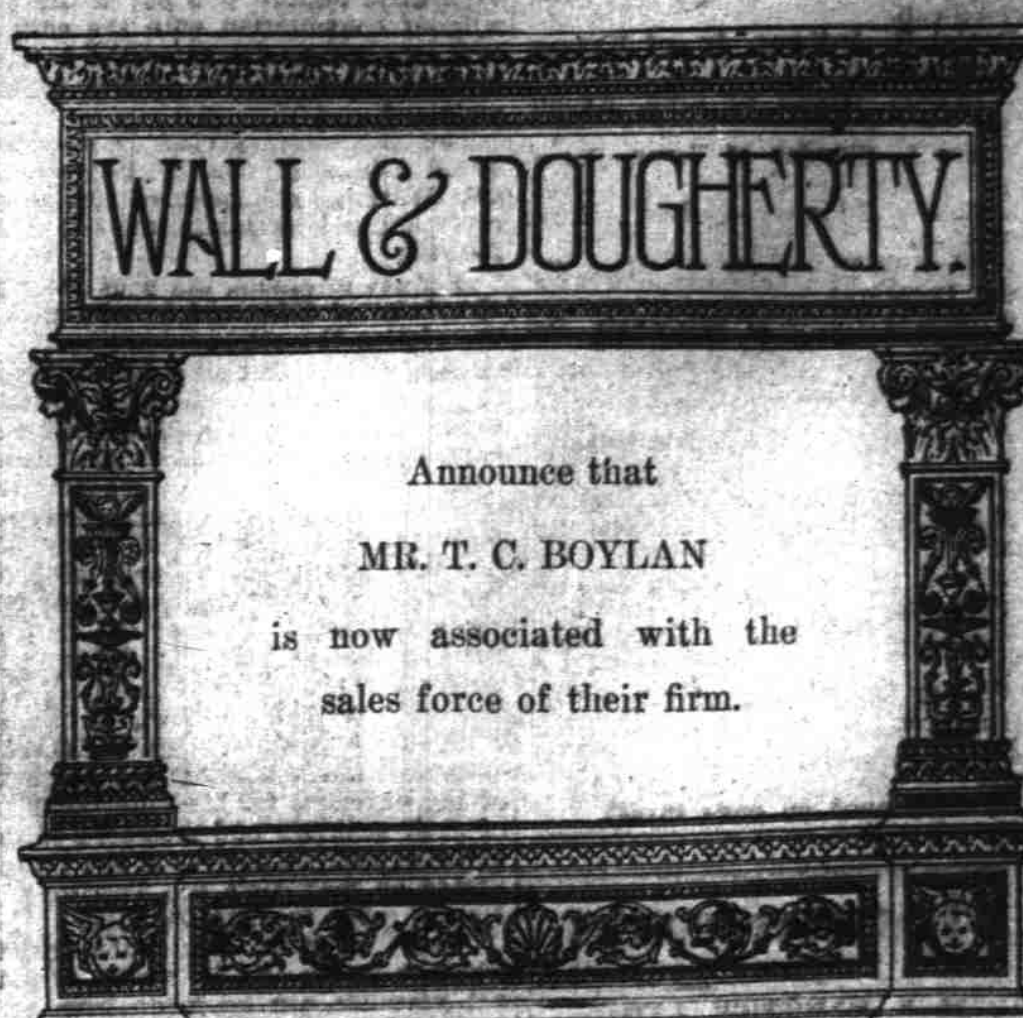

(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence)

HILO, March 16.—In anticipation of the rush of tourists which is expected this year, the Volcano House is adding to its accommodation capacity. Twelve new rooms are being built on the sulphur bank side of the hotel, and they are only the start of a much larger scheme. The hotel company feels justified in going ahead with this expensive work because Hilo is to have a man of her own in Honolulu to divert more tourist traffic this way—that is if the plans of the board of trade special committee go through.

In Hilo, at the Demontheas cafe, renovating work is also going on and Manager Charles Lycurgus is having a lot of painting work done in order to brighten up the well known hostelry.

At the Hilo hotel various improvements are planned for the near future. Hilo will be able to accommodate all the tourists who are expected to remain a few days in the town before proceeding to the volcano.
